Early Childhood & Elementary Literacy Resources

READERS ARE LEADERS

The following are resources for families to learn more about supporting literacy development in early childhood and elementary school.

Family Connection SC Text 2 Read (T2R) is a free mobile information service. It offers parents ideas for no or low cost language and literacy activities to help foster literacy development and prepare their child for Kindergarten. https://www.familyconnectionsc.org/t2r/

Help your child read and write with practical ideas and strategies based on what works. Explore by topics such as: beginning reading, remote learning, dyslexia, interventions, screening and more. https://improvingliteracy.org/family

Highlights information for parents on how to help K-3 readers at home, how to locate public libraries in your area, and provides answers to questions about South Carolina's Read to Succeed law, including the law's 3rd grade retention requirements. https://screads.org

This page for parents and caregivers offers printable literacy activities, reading lists and resources, and school success tips to support your student. https://www.scholastic.com/parents/home.html
